

Muslims celebrate different holidays to Firstly, Muslims fast over a period known as

This means they don't eat during hours when the sun is up in order to show respect to Allah and the prophet After Ramadan, the fast is broken by celebrations. Here, people of the Muslim faith continue their good deeds and celebrate with their family and special prayers performed at the, their holy building. Eid is a national in Muslim countries and widely celebrated here in the UK.

Eid	Ramadan	Mosque
Christians	holiday	Muhammad